General Statement

Boston College owes its inception to John McElroy, priest of the Society of Jesus, a member of the original Jesuit foundation in Boston, St. Mary's, at Endicott Street, in the North End. With the purpose of establishing a college of higher studies for the members of the Society of Jesus, Father McElroy purchased a strip of land on Harrison Avenue, August 1st, 1857. On this property suitable buildings were erected and a Scholasticate of the Society of Jesus was opened.

In 1863 this Scholasticate was transferred to Georgetown, D. C. In the buildings thus left vacant an institution of higher learning was inaugurated and called Boston College. By an act of the Massachusetts Legislature on May 25, 1863, Boston College was granted the necessary power of conferring collegiate degrees. The first classes were organized on September 5, 1864, with an enrollment of twenty-two students.

It is a far cry from the lowly beginnings of 1864 to the bright prospects that greet the greater Boston College, when now, after fifty years of collegiate life passed in the old buildings on Harrison Avenue, she has inaugurated new college buildings on University Heights. The history of those first fifty years might tell a fascinating story of the unflagging energy and zeal which have made the greater Boston College.

Boston College throughout its whole career has been guided by a succession of men, who united in a rare degree great intellectual gifts and scholarly attainments with a breadth of view and worldly wisdom which spell success. Father John Bapst, S.J., guided the destinies of the college from its foundation until 1869. Father Robert W. Brady, S.J., succeeded him for a single year until 1870, when the reins of government were assumed by Father Robert Fulton, S.J., in whose hands they remained until 1879. In the intervening years from 1879 to 1888 the president's chair was successively occupied by Jeremiah O'Connor, S.J., Edward V. Boursaud, S.J., Thomas H. Stack, S.J., and Nicholas Russo, S.J. In 1888 Robert Fulton, S.J., was again called to the direction of the institution. From 1891 to 1907 the destinies of the college were ably guided by such men as Edward I. Devitt, S.J., Timothy Brosnahan, S.J., Reid Mullan, S.J., William Gannon, S.J. These were the men who slowly and steadily laid the foundations of a greater Boston College and won for her widespread recognition even in the days of her lowly beginnings. The saintly Bapst, the scholarly Fulton, the gentle Boursaud, have been household names in Boston for a half century.

When, in 1907, Rev. Thomas I. Gasson, S.J., assumed direction of the college, progress had been so steady, growth in members and educational influence so marked, that the need of increased facilities for handling every department of college activity was keenly felt. Accordingly the present picturesque site in Newton, facing Commonwealth Avenue and overlooking the twin lakes that lie beneath its heights was purchased in 1907.

Here on a site unrivalled the country over for picturesqueness and environment peculiarly suited to collegiate and classic ideals, Boston College inaugurates the second half century of her existence.

Already two structures of simple, and yet substantial, Gothic, the Recitation Building crowned with an inspiring central tower and St. Mary's Hall ornamented in chaste medieval richness, rise high on modest terraces bordering the lakes, and for outstanding strength and graceful beauty call forth worldwide admiration.

An act of the Legislature of Massachusetts, dated March 31st, 1863, reads as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE YEAR ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THREE.

AN ACT to incorporate the Trustees of the Boston College.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

SECTION 1. John McElroy, Edward H. Welch, John Bapst, James Clark, and Charles H. Stonestreet, their associates and successors, are hereby constituted a body corporate by the name of the TRUSTEES OF THE BOSTON COLLEGE, in Boston, and they and their successors and such as shall be duly elected members of such corporation, shall be and remain a body corporate by that name forever; and for the orderly conducting of the business of said corporation, the said Trustees shall have power and authority, from time to time, as occasion may require, to elect a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and such other officers of said corporation as may be found necessary, and to declare the duties and tenures of their respective offices, and also to remove any trustee from the same corporation, when in their judgment he shall be rendered incapable, by age or otherwise, of discharging the duties of his office, or shall neglect or refuse to perform the same, and also from time to time elect new members of the said corporation; provided, nevertheless, that the number of members shall never be greater than ten.

SEC. 2. The said corporation shall have full power and authority to determine at what times and places their meetings shall be holden and the manner of notifying the trustees to convene at such meetings, and also from time to time elect a President of said College, and such professors, tutors, instructors and other officers of the said college as they shall judge most for the interest thereof, and to determine the duties, salaries, emoluments, responsibilities and tenures of their several offices; and the said corporation are further empowered to purchase or erect and keep in repair, such houses and other buildings as they shall judge necessary for the said college; and also to make and ordain, as occasion may require, reasonable rules, orders, and bylaws not repugnant to the constitution and laws of this Commonwealth, with reasonable penalties for the good government of the said college, and for the regulation of their own body; to determine and regulate the course of instruction in said college, and confer such degrees as are usually conferred by said colleges in this Commonwealth, except medical degrees; provided, nevertheless, that no corporate business shall be transacted at any meeting unless one-half at least of all the trustees are present.

SEC. 3. Said corporation may have a common seal, which they may alter or renew at their pleasure, and all deeds sealed with the seal of the said corporation, and signed by their order, shall, when made in their corporate name, be considered in laws as the deeds of said corporation; and said corporation may sue and be sued in all action, real, personal or mixed, and may prosecute the same to final judgment and execution by the name of the Trustees of Boston College; and said corporation shall be capable of taking and holding in fee simple or any less estate by gift, grant bequest, devise or otherwise, any lands, tenements or other estate, real or personal: provided, that the clear annual income of the same shall not exceed thirty thousand dollars.

SEC. 4. The clear rents and profits of all estate, real and personal, of which the said corporation shall be seized and possessed, shall be appropriated to the endowments of said college in such a manner as shall most effectually promote virtue and piety, and learning in such of the languages and of the liberal and useful arts and sciences, as shall be recommended from time to time by the said corporation, they conforming to the will of any donor in the application of any estate which may be given, devised or bequeathed for any particular object connected with the college.

SEC. 5. No student in said college shall be refused admission to or denied any of the privileges, honors or degrees of said college on account of the religious opinion he may entertain.

SEC. 6. The Legislature of this Commonwealth may grant any further powers to, or alter, limit, annul, or restrain any of the powers vested by this act in the said corporation, as shall be found necessary to promote the best interests of said college and more especially may appoint overseers or visitors of the same college, with all necessary powers for the better aid, preservation and government thereof.

SEC. 7. The granting of this charter shall never be considered as any pledge on the part of the Commonwealth that pecuniary aid shall hereafter be granted to the College.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, March 31, 1863.

Passed to be enacted, Alex. H. Bullock, Speaker.

IN SENATE, March 31, 1863.

Passed to be enacted, I. E. Field, President.

April 1st, 1863.

Approved.

JOHN A. ANDREW, Gov.

AN ACT

TO AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE BOSTON COLLEGE IN BOSTON

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court Assembled and by the authority of the same, as follows:

SECTION 1. The corporate name of the Trustees of the Boston College in Boston, incorporated by the chapter one hundred and twenty-three of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-three, is hereby changed to the Trustees of Boston College.

SEC. 2. Said corporation may grant medical degrees to students properly accredited and recommended by its faculty; provided, however, that the course of instruction furnished by the corporation for candidates for such degrees shall occupy not less than three years.

SEC. 3. Section three of said chapter one hundred and twenty-three is hereby amended by striking out the words, "provided that the clear annual income of the same shall not exceed thirty thousand dollars," in the last two lines of said section.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved April 1, 1908.

EBEN S. DRAPER,
ACTING GOVERNOR.

PREPARATORY HIGH SCHOOL

It is one of the decided advantages of the system followed in this college that the student may begin his studies in the Preparatory School (Boston College High School), connected with the College, and then pass on through the College course to graduation. In addition to the moral influence thus gained, this secures a uniform and homogeneous course of teaching and training. The result of such a course of study is a continuous and normal development of the mental faculties along well-defined lines and the possession of a clear and coherent system of principles upon which any special course may afterwards safely rest.

RELIGIOUS TRAINING

Religious instruction is considered of the first importance in education. Christian Doctrine is one of the regular class recitations, lectures being given in each class. The matter is so divided for the different classes that in the four years of College the student will cover the whole ground of Catholic belief in a thorough manner. Students are required in addition to attend the weekly lectures on the doctrines of the Church, to make the annual retreat and to present themselves to their confessor every month.

System of Education

The system of education followed in Boston College is similar to that of all the colleges of the Society of Jesus. It is based upon and guided by the principles of the far-famed Ratio Studiorum, a body of rules and suggestions framed upon the experiences and the best results attained by the greatest universities of Europe at the most flourishing period of their existence.

The subjoined brief outline of the underlying principles of the system, the dominant features of its method, and the object aimed at by its teachings will give a general idea of its purpose.

Education is understood by the Fathers of the Society as the full and harmonious development of all those faculties that are distinctive of man. It is not, therefore, mere instruction or the communication of knowledge. In fact, the acquisition of knowledge, though it necessarily accompanies any right system of education, is a secondary result of education. Learning is an instrument of education, not its end. The end is culture, and mental and moral development.

Understanding, then, clearly the purposes of education, such instrument of education, that is, such studies, sciences or languages, are chosen as will most effectively further that end. These studies are chosen, moreover, only in preparation, and in such numbers as are sufficient and required. A student who is to be educated will not be forced, in the short period of his college course, and with his immature faculties, to study a multiplicity of the languages and sciences into which the vast world of modern knowledge has been scientifically divided. If two or more sciences, for instance, give similar training to some mental faculty, that one is chosen which combines the most effective training with the largest and most fundamental knowledge.

The purpose of the mental training given is not proximately to fit the student for some special employment or profession, but to give him such a general, vigorous and rounded development as will enable him to cope successfully even with the unforeseen emergencies of life. While giving the mind stay, it tends to remove the insularity of thought and want of mental elasticity which is one of the most hopeless and disheartening results of specialism in students who have not brought to their studies the uniform mental training given by a systematic College course. The studies, therefore, are so graded and classified as to be adapted to the mental growth of the student and the scientific unfolding of knowledge; they are so chosen and communicated that the student will gradually and harmoniously reach, as nearly as may be, that measure of culture of which he is capable.

It is fundamental in the system of the Society of Jesus that different studies have distinct and peculiar educational values. Mathematics, the Natural Sciences, Languages and History are complementary instruments of education to which the doctrine of equivalence cannot be applied. The specific training given by one cannot be supplied by another.

Furthermore, Languages and History have always been held in esteem as leading factors in education. Mathematics and the Natural Sciences bring the student into contact with the material aspects of nature, and exercise the inductive and deductive powers of reason. Language and History affect a higher union; they are manifestations of spirit to spirit, and by their study and for their acquirement the whole mind of man is brought into widest and subtlest play. The acquisition of Language especially calls for delicacy of judgment and fineness of perception, and for a constant, keen and quick use of the reasoning powers. A special importance is attached to the classic tongues of Rome and Greece. As these are languages with a structure and idiom remote from the language of the student, the study of them lays bare before him the laws of thought and logic, and requires attention, reflection, and analysis of the fundamental relations between thought and grammar. In studying them the student is led to the fundamental recesses of language. They exercise him in exactness of conception in grasping the foreign thought, and in delicacy of expression in clothing that thought in the dissimilar garb of the mother-tongue. While recognizing, then, in education the necessity and importance of Mathematics and the Natural Sciences, which unfold the interdependence and laws of the world of time and space, the Jesuit system of education has unwaveringly kept Language in a position of honor as an instrument of culture

Lastly, the system does not share the illusion of those who seem to imagine that education, understood as an enriching and stimulating of the intellectual faculties, has a morally elevating influence in human life. While conceding the effects of education in energizing and refining imagination, taste, understanding and powers of observation, it has always held that knowledge and intellectual development of themselves have no moral efficacy. Religion only can purify the heart, and guide and strengthen the will.

The Jesuit system of education, then, aims at developing, side by side, the moral and intellectual faculties of the student, and at sending forth to the world men of sound judgment, of acute and rounded intellect, of upright and manly conscience. And since men are not made better citizens by the mere accumulation of knowledge, without a guiding and controlling force, the principal faculties to be developed are the moral faculties. Moreover, morality is to be taught continuously; it must be the underlying base, the vital force supporting and animating the whole organic structure of education. It must be the atmosphere the student breathes; it must suffuse with its light all that he reads, illumining what is noble and exposing what is base, giving to the true and false their relative light and shade.

In a word, the purpose of Jesuit teaching is to lay a solid sub-structure in the whole mind and character for any super-structure of science, professional and special, and for the building up of moral life, civil and religious.

Entrance Requirements

1. All applicants for admission to Boston College must give satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and of honorable dismissal from the school or college which they last attended.

2. Candidates who have satisfactorily completed the course of studies in the High School Preparatory to Boston College will be admitted without examination.

3. Graduates of certain High Schools approved by vote of the faculty are admitted without examination on presentation of a copy of the detailed programme of studies pursued by them in such schools, and of certificate from the Headmaster stating that they have successfully completed the course, and have attained the mark required by the school for certificate privileges.

4. All other applicants for admission who desire the A.B. degree will be required to pass a satisfactory examination in the following subjects:

(This examination is based on the course of studies in the Boston College High School.)

LATIN.—(1). Grammar.—The entire Latin Grammar, including a knowledge of all regular syntactical constructions. Translations into Latin at sight of complex English sentences, entailing the application of rules for relative clauses, indirect discourse, and conditional sentences.

(2). Composition.—Translation into Latin of easy continuous prose based upon Cæsar and Cicero. This requirement is of very special importance, and great weight will be given to it in the examination. The use of Cicero's orations as models for the requirements of Latin idiom is strongly recommended.

(3). Authors.—Cæsar: De Bello Gallico, four books. Cicero: The Orations against Catiline, Pro Archia, Pro Lege Manilia. Virgil: Æneid, Books I, II, III, IV.

GREEK.†—(1). Grammar.—Etymology, complete (including the regular and defective forms); entire syntax and its application; the Homeric dialect.

(2). Composition.—Translation into Greek of simple English sentences based on Xenophon's Anabasis.

(3). Authors.—Xenophon's Anabasis, Books I, II, III and IV. Homer, Iliad, Books I, II and VI. For the Anabasis may be substituted Xenophon's Cyropædia, Memorabilia or Hellenica.

N. B.—In assigning the matter above, the purpose of the Faculty is, on the one hand, not to insist on quantity, or to recognize the mere reading of a stated amount of assigned authors as sufficient preparation for college. In the discussion of the classic authors, both Greek and Latin, the candidate must be prepared to give a complete grammatical analysis of every word, phrase and sentence, and to point out exceptional idioms, and must be informed on the chief points of collateral erudition connected with the text.

ENGLISH.—(1). Higher Grammar.—The candidate must be prepared on the matter contained in Davidson and Alcock's "English Grammar and Analysis," Nichol's Composition, Scott-Denny's Composition-Rhetoric, Coppen's Introduction to Rhetoric, or some equivalent works.

(2). Composition.—A brief prose composition will be required, evidencing proficiency in narrative and critical writing. This exercise will be based on books and authors assigned for reading and study. Questions will be asked as to the subject-matter, method of treatment, structure and style of these books. Fair penmanship and accurate spelling will be considered as essential preliminary requirements.

(3). Authors.—The authors assigned are: Coleridge, The Ancient Mariner; Tennyson, Holy Grail and Morte D'Arthur; Addison's Sir Roger de Coverley; *Macaulay, Essays on Milton and Addison; *Milton, Minor Poems; *Shakespeare, Macbeth or Merchant of Venice; *Burke on Conciliation; Lowell, The Vision of Sir Launfal; Newman's Callista.

A careful study of the works marked thus* (subject matter, form and structure) will be exacted; a general acquaintance with the other assigned books will be sufficient.

N. B.—The Uniform College Entrance Requirements in English for 1921 will be accepted, as will any fair equivalent work in this department.

HISTORY.—The History of the Oriental Nations, of Greece, Rome and England; Montgomery's History of the United States, or some equivalent. Elements of Civics.

MATHEMATICS.—Elementary and Higher Algebra; Geometry, plane and solid.—Wentworth's Complete Algebra and Wentworth's Geometry, or works of equal grade.

MODERN LANGUAGES.—One modern language besides English is required, preferably French or Spanish. The examination will embrace the elements of Grammar, including the irregular verbs; translation into English at sight of simple prose; grammatical analysis.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

ATTENDANCE.—As regular attendance is an important element in class standing, and an essential condition for successful work, students must not be detained or absent from class except for very grave reasons. For absence from class, or for permission to withdraw before the close of the daily session, which will very rarely be granted, a note from the parent or guardian will invariably be required.

Parents and guardians should know that absence and tardiness, even when excusable, affect class standing. Students who are not present 85 per cent. of the school year cannot be promoted in June.

DISTRIBUTION OF TIME.—The School Year consists of two terms; the first begins the third week in September, the second on the third of February, and closes with the Annual Commencement and Conferring of Degrees in the latter part of June. The daily classes are from 9.30 to 2.30 with forty-five minutes for lunch at 1 o'clock.

All students must be in their respective class rooms at 9.30 o'clock; those who come later will not be admitted without a note from the Prefect of Discipline.

CLASS STANDING AND PROMOTION.—The report of each student's class standing is sent to parents or guardians at the end of each term. This report—except the one that is sent at the end of the year—is, after inspection, to be signed by the parent or guardian and returned to the Prefect of Studies. On the scale used 100 is the highest mark. The student's rank is determined by positions in one of five grades: A, 100-90, Very good; B, 90-80, good; C, 80-70, fairly good; D, 70-60, tolerable; E, below 60, deficient and unsatisfactory.

At the end of each month each student's marks are read publicly. The average of these monthly marks together with the marks for the mid-year examinations make up the term average. To obtain this term average, the average of the monthly results and of the examinations are combined in a ratio of two to one.

In the second term the same method is followed, and the year's results are seen in the average obtained from the combination of those of the two terms. According to this average of results of the year, class honors and promotions are determined. The medal and premium are conferred on the first two students who have reached the highest annual average above 93; honorable mention on those above 85. An average of 60 is required for promotion. To prevent exclusive devotion to one pursuit, or neglect of any particular branch, it has been found necessary for failure in any branch to refuse promotion in the main class. Hence students whose general average for the year is above 60 but who have fallen below 60 in some studies will be "conditioned" in those studies, and will not be promoted until the condition is removed by a satisfactory examination. Only two examinations are allowed for the removal of conditions.

HOME STUDY.—All the endeavors of the faculty will fail to insure success for the students unless they apply themselves to their studies with diligence and constancy outside of class hour. Approximately twenty-five hours a week are spent in class work, and to prepare recitations and exercises for this work, as well as to review the matter previously seen, at least three hours of home study daily are required. Parents and guardians are, therefore, urged to insist on this application

PARENTAL CO-OPERATION.—The efforts of teachers and prefects will be much facilitated if parents and guardians will co-operate with them in maintaining discipline and insisting on obedience to regulations made for the purpose. Parents are therefore asked :

1. To insist upon daily study at home for three to four hours.

2. To notify the Prefect of Discipline immediately in case of withdrawal of their son or of necessary detention from, or tardy arrival at class, or failure to receive the term report.

3. To attend to notification—always sent by the Prefect in the case of unexplained absence, or for lessons notably imperfect during a considerable length of time.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The establishment of Scholarships is greatly to be desired, for in this way many young men of excellent promise are given the advantage of a collegiate education which they could not otherwise obtain. To all who have at heart the best interests of youth we earnestly commend this opportunity of spreading the beneficent influence of Catholic education and of enabling worthy young men to equip themselves for the higher spheres of life and thus to aid effectively both Church and State. The trustees of Boston College offer a number of scholarships to promising students who cannot afford to pay the regular tuition. Nearly all the scholarships are assigned after competitive examinations. The holder of a scholarship will be required to maintain a high rank in his class for proficiency, diligence and good conduct.

The following are the regularly founded scholarships:—

The WILLIAM CARDINAL O'CONNELL SCHOLARSHIPS.

To commemorate his elevation to the august College of Cardinals, His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell established in 1912 five scholarships in Boston College.

The EDWARD I. BAKER SCHOLARSHIP, founded in January, 1916.

The REV. HENRY A. BARRY SCHOLARSHIP, partly founded in March, 1908, by a friend of the zealous priest whose name it bears.

The WILLIAM P. BRETT, S.J., SCHOLARSHIP, presented by John Brett in favor of a deserving student who wishes to study for the priesthood.

THE MATTHAIS AND JOSEPHINE BROCK SCHOLARSHIP, preferably to a graduate of Holy Trinity School, Boston.

THE REV. FRANCIS J. BUTLER SCHOLARSHIP, founded in January, 1910, by the people of St. Leo's Parish, Dorchester, in grateful recognition of the services rendered to religion by a devoted pastor.

THE FATHER CHARLIER SCHOLARSHIP, founded in 1894, by the Immaculate Conception Conference of St. Vincent de Paul Society, to commemorate the semi-centenary in Religion of their Spiritual Director.

THE TIMOTHY W. COAKLEY SCHOLARSHIP.

THE STYLUS

THE BOSTON COLLEGE STYLUS is a journal founded by the members of the Class of 1884. In 1889 the publication was suspended, but resumed in December, 1893. It is now published monthly.

The object of THE STYLUS is to encourage literary work among the students, to chronicle class and college incidents, and to serve as a means of communication between the Alumni and the Undergraduates. A special department is given to the news of Alumni and to their letters and articles. This year a new department devoted to poetry has been added.

The Board of Directors is elected annually in May.

THE HEIGHTS

THE HEIGHTS, the college weekly, which was founded in November, 1919, has made remarkable progress since the appearance of the first issue. Since then it has increased in size from a small four-page leaflet to an eight-page paper. With an increased circulation among the Alumni, THE HEIGHTS will take its place as an important factor in the life of Boston College.

THE FABRE CLUB

On October 22, 1920, thirty-five members of the pre-Medical classes united to form the Fabre Club. The organization has as its patron the distinguished French Catholic entomologist and student of instinct, Jean Henri Fabre. Its purpose is to unify and increase the efforts of its members in their pre-Medical studies, especially Biology, and to act as a medium between the present students of the pre-Medical courses and those of our Alumni and others who have already entered the fields of Surgery and Medicine.

Besides the regular list of members, an Honorary Membership composed of the leading doctors and dentists of the city is in process of formation. At present, this branch of the Club numbers thirty-five members.

The officers of the Fabre Club for the year are:

BIOLOGY

COURSE I. This course comprises two hours of lecture and four hours of laboratory work throughout two years of thirty-six weeks each, or eight semester hours each year.

The purpose of the course is to prepare students for the study of Dentistry or Medicine and for advanced work in Botany or Zoology. The scope of the course exceeds the recommendation of the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association.

The course is offered to the pre-medical students and to the students of the A. B. course who wish to prepare for the study of Medicine. These latter must elect the course at the beginning of their Junior Year.

The greater part of this year is spent in mastering the general principles of Biology and the fundamentals of Botany and Zoology. The cell, its structure, reproduction and various functions are studied in the amoeba, paramoecium, vorticella and euglena, while the details of cell-division are seen in the root tip of the onion or tradascantia. After the general classification of the plant kingdom has been learned, the thallophytes and fungi are given special attention. The protococcus, and several diatoms and desmids are studied and then the filamentous thallophytes, the spirogyra, zygnema, vaucheria and chara are examined in the gross and microscopic specimens of fresh and preserved material. In the study of the fungi the bacteria are emphasized, the student becoming acquainted in the laboratory with the principles of bacteriological technique by isolating and identifying the common types of bacteria by their cultural characteristics on the ordinary media. Microscopic examination of the hanging drop and the stained preparation enables the student to become familiar with the characteristics of the common types and teaches him the care and use of the oil immersion lens. The yeast, molds and peziza complete the study of the fungi.

A short period is given to the bryophytes and then a very detailed study of the histological structure, the physiology and the life cycle of the fern is made.

A brief treatment of the pine as typical of the gymnosperms is followed by a consideration of the life processes in the flowering plant, namely, absorption and elaboration of food materials, growth, propagation and reproduction.

Next the student becomes familiar with the general classification of animals, and beginning with the living hydra, and later making microscopic examinations of total mounts and cross sections of that animal, he makes careful dissections of the earthworm, crayfish, starfish and frog, completing the work of the first year.

Each student is required during the first year of the course to spend sufficient time in the laboratory under the direction of the technician to learn the several methods of preparing tissues for microscopic study. He carries several specimens through the various stages of fixing, dehydration, infiltration and imbedding, and then mounts and stains a set of fifty slides which must be approved by the instructor.

A note book containing all drawings and descriptions called for in the laboratory outline furnished each student must be handed to the instructor periodically for inspection and approval.

COURSE II. Open to those who have completed Course I or its equivalent. The work of this year may be grouped under the following headings:—

I. General Anatomy and Physiology.

Mammalian anatomy is treated in lectures which are supplemented by laboratory work. The various systems of the human body are studied both as to structure and function, and as a complement to this work the student is required to make a careful comparative study of the cat or rabbit, spending the greater part of one semester in making a careful dissection of those animals and attending demonstrations given by the instructor.

II. Histology.

This portion of the course includes the study of the microscopic structure of the fundamental tissues, bone, cartilage, fibrous tissue, muscle and epithelium, the various types of gland cells, blood and blood vessels, bone marrow, and all varieties of nerve cells.

III. Embryology.

In this course reproduction in animals is considered in general, the earliest stages following fertilization being studied in the eggs of Cerebratulus, while the later development of the embryo is studied in total mounts and cross sections of the twenty-eight hour chick.

The laboratory book containing sketches, drawings and descriptions called for in the outline must be approved before credit will be given for the course.

CHEMISTRY

COURSE I. Two lecture or recitation periods a week throughout the year. (Four semester hours.) Required in Sophomore.

General Chemistry: Inorganic Chemistry. Physical and Chemical Changes. Matter. Energy. Elements. Compounds. Mixtures. Oxygen. Ozone. Hydrogen. Water. Law. Theory. Hypothesis. Fundamental Laws and Theories. Solution. Electrolysis. Atmosphere. Acids, Bases, Salts, and Neutralization. Atomic and Molecular Weights. Valence. The Periodic Law. Non-metals and their Compounds. Metals and their Compounds. Organic Chemistry. The Hydrocarbons. Other Compounds of Carbon.

Text-book: "General Chemistry for Colleges," Alex. Smith. References: "Treatise on Chemistry," Roscoe and Schorlemmer. Vols. I and II; "Text-book of Inorganic Chemistry," Holleman-Cooper; "General and Industrial Chemistry," Molinari; "Theoretical Chemistry," Nernst; "Fundamental Principles of Chemistry," Ostwald; "History of Chemistry," Meyer.

COURSE II. Two periods of two hours each week throughout the year. (Four semester hours.) Required in Sophomore.

Inorganic Laboratory. This course is given in conjunction with Course I. In this course the student is brought into intimate contact with the non-metals and metals and their chemical behavior, is given an insight into laboratory methods, and is offered an opportunity to verify and supplement the theoretical knowledge acquired in Course I.

Laboratory Manual: "Laboratory Manual of General Chemistry," Smith.

COURSE III. (Four semester hours.) Elective in Sophomore, Junior and Senior. Sophomores who have offered chemistry for entrance may take this course if their high school work has been sufficiently comprehensive.

Course III is a laboratory course in General Chemistry of wider scope than that included in Course I. The course includes the elements of Physical Chemistry, and special emphasis is laid on the quantitative aspect of the science. Textbooks: Smith and Hale's "A Laboratory Outline of General Chemistry," A. B. Lamb: "Laboratory Manual of General Chemistry."

COURSE IV. Elective in Junior and Senior. One lecture or recitation and two laboratory periods of two hours each per week throughout the year. (Six semester hours.)

Qualitative Analytical Chemistry. This course is divided into three parts: Basic analysis, including the separation and detection of metals of each group and a study of all the changes in the different analytical processes. The study of each group is preceded by a lecture and a demonstration followed by laboratory analysis of known and unknown solutions of that group by the student. On the completion of each group an examination, both in theory and practice, is given. Acid analysis deals with the detection of the mineral acids and the more common organic acids; the same method of instruction is followed as in basic analysis. Dry analysis consists in an examination of metals and alloys and non-metallic compounds.

Text-book: "Basic—Acid—Dry Analysis," George L. Coyle, S.J.
References: "Analytical Chemistry," Treadwell-Hall; "Qualitative Chemical Analysis," F. M. Perkins; "Qualitative Analysis," Morgan.

COURSE V. Elective in Senior. Hours as in Course IV. (Six semester hours.)

Quantitative Chemical Analysis. A course in elementary Quantitative Analysis is offered as an elective to students in the Senior year, principally to those who intend to enter technical or engineering schools. The course embraces the typical gravimetric and volumetric processes. Text-book: "An Introductory Course of Quantitative Chemical Analysis," Talbot.

COURSE VI. Elective in Senior. Two lecture or recitation, and two laboratory periods of two hours each per week throughout the year. (Eight semester hours.)

Organic Chemistry. This course is arranged to meet the requirements of those who intend to study medicine after the completion of their college course. The course treats of the analysis and purification of organic compounds, embraces the paraffins, with their halogen derivatives, alcohols, ethers, aldehydes, and ketones, acids, esters, and the amines. Special attention is given the carbohydrates and proteids, the aromatic hydro-carbons and their halogen and nitro derivatives, the aniline dyes and the phenols. This work is supplemented by laboratory practice in the preparation and qualitative analysis of typical organic compounds. Text-book: F. J. Moore, "Outlines of Organic Chemistry."

PHYSICS

COURSE I. Sophomore year. Two hours a week, both terms.

Mechanics. Lectures and use of instruments. Laboratory work.

COURSE II. Required in Junior. Five lectures or recitations a week during the year. (Ten semester hours.)

Lecture Course in Mechanics of Fluids, Sound, Light, Heat, Magnetism and Electricity. In each subject practical problems are given in class to impress the student with the necessity of a knowledge of the theory. Carhart: College Physics.

COURSE III. Elective in Junior and Senior. Two periods a week during the year. (Four semester hours.)

A laboratory course. In this course observation and accuracy of execution are insisted on. The student is prepared for the more advanced work of the professional schools.

MATHEMATICS

COURSE I. Freshman year. Four hours a week, one term.

Trigonometry: Functions of Acute Angles. The Right Triangle. Goniometry. The oblique Triangle. Construction of Logarithmic Table. Surveying. Text-book, Wentworth.

COURSE II. Freshman year. Four hours a week, one term.

Analytic Geometry: Loci and Equations. The Straight Line. The Circle. Different Systems of Co-ordinates. The Parabola. The Ellipse. The Hyperbola. Text-book, Wentworth.

COURSE III. Elective. Three hours a week.

Calculus.

MODERN LANGUAGES

Note.—In order to follow the course in Modern Languages prescribed for Freshman year, students must, upon entrance, have a fair reading knowledge of the language which they choose. For this two or three years of preparatory work are required. Those who have not had the preparation will be obliged to take an elementary course in some modern language during their Freshman year.

French

COURSE I. Freshman year. Two hours a week.

AUTHORS:—First Term: Chateaubriand, Le Dernier des Abencerages. Atala, Moliere, Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme, L'Avare.

COMPOSITION: Exercises based on the authors read in class.

AUTHORS—Second Term: Corneille, Le Cid, Polyeucte, Racine, Athalie.

COMPOSITION: Exercises based on the authors read in class.

COURSE II. Elective for Junior and Senior. Three hours a week.

AUTHORS—First Term: Study of the French Orators: Bossuet, Bourdaloue, Massillon, Flechier.

Private reading, directed by Professor.

Second Term: Study of the French Dramatists: Corneille, Racine, Moliere, De la Vigne, Bornier, La Fille de Roland, Rostrand, Cyrano de Bergerac.

Private reading, directed by Professor.

German

COURSE I. Freshman year. Two hours a week.

First Term: A study of one of the following Dramatic Poems: Schiller, "William Tell," "Wallenstein Tod;" Goethe, "Iphigenie au Tauris," "Torquato Tassa."

COMPOSITION: Exercises based on the authors read in class.

Second Term: A study of one of the following prose authors: Spillmann, Freytag, Sudermann, Alban Stolz, Ricarda Huch, Frenssen.

COMPOSITION: Exercises based on the authors read in class.

COURSE II. Elective for Junior and Senior. Three hours a week.

Study of the German Drama and of Epic Poetry. Lessing, Schiller, Goethe, etc. Nibelungen, Klopstock's Messias.

Private reading, directed by Professor. Conference.

Spanish

COURSE I. Freshman year. Two hours a week.

Both Terms: Prose and Poetry of the Nineteenth Century. Lectures and Reading in Modern Spanish Literature. Composition. Conversation.

ORATORY AND ELOCUTION

Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman years. One-half hour each week, both terms.

The work in this department is so arranged that each student may have the maximum of attention from the professor. There is a class for vocal drill and expression, with exercises in perfect carriage and gesture, interpretation and delivery. Students are required to speak before the class a certain number of times each term, and every year purses are awarded to the winners in a public contest. This contest consists of the delivery of original orations.

PRE-MEDICAL COURSES AT BOSTON COLLEGE

Students of Boston College who desire to prepare themselves for entrance into acceptable medical schools must so arrange their elective courses in science as to fulfill the requirements which are now standard in all pre-medical education. These requirements are:*

(a) The completion of at least two years of college work, in addition to four years of high school for college entrance, said college work to include, along with the usual college subjects, courses in physics, in general inorganic chemistry, in organic chemistry and in biology.

(b) These courses in science must all include suitable laboratory work.

(c) A reading knowledge of French or German.

The scope of these required courses in science is defined as follows:

General Inorganic Chemistry course to consist of twelve semester hours† of which four semester hours must consist of laboratory work. Qualitative analysis may be counted in with general inorganic chemistry.

Organic Chemistry. Four semester hours required, at least half of which must be laboratory work.

*See Final Report of the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association.

†A semester hour is defined as one lecture or recitation hour, or one laboratory period of two hours per week during a term of sixteen weeks.

Physics. Eight semester hours required, of which at least two must be laboratory work.

Biology. Six semester hours required, of which four must consist of laboratory work.

French or German—If this requirement is absolved by college work, six semester hours are required as a minimum.

In order to complete these courses at Boston College, the student must arrange his science subjects according to the following schedule:

SOPHOMORE YEAR:

Chemistry I—Four semester hours.

Chemistry II—Four semester hours or

Chemistry III—Four semester hours

JUNIOR YEAR:

Chemistry IV—Six semester hours

Physics I—If preferred Physics II may be taken in Junior year in place of Chemistry IV.

The School of Education of Boston College was organized in the fall of 1919. The increasing interest in education, together with what is a characteristic development of recent educational progress, namely, educational co-operation, are the causes for its organization.

Formerly the course in the history, science, and art of education was intended solely to meet the needs of the undergraduate who wished to take up teaching as a profession. The School of Education purposes to meet the demand for the training of graduate student teachers for secondary schools. A more scientific plan of training teachers for service in secondary schools is thus provided.

With the opening of the School of Education an arrangement was effected between the School Committee of Boston and Boston College whereby courses leading to the degree of Master of Arts are offered to residents of the City of Boston who are graduates of colleges approved by the Board of Superintendents. Before this educational co-operation between the School Committee of Boston and Boston College, college graduates preparing for the Boston service did their practice work under the direction of Assistant Superintendent Mary C. Mellyn and their class work in the Boston Normal School. By the present arrangement their practice work is as heretofore under the direction of Miss Mellyn while their related academic work, if they so elect, will be taken at the School of Education of Boston College.

College graduates desiring to enter the School of Education of Boston College under this arrangement with the School Committee must present themselves for an examination for admission to the Boston Normal School. The date of this examination, usually held in the early part of September, may be learned from the School officials. The subjects of examination will include:

One required Major Subject from the following:

English and American Literature

French

German

Latin

Spanish

Trigonometry and Analytics

Biology

Chemistry

Physics

Mediaeval and Modern European History

American History

Economics

Two required Minor Subjects: (a) English Composition and Rhetoric. (b) One of the following, not already taken as a Major:

French
German
Latin
Spanish
Algebra
Geometry
Biology
Chemistry
Physics
Mediæval and Modern European History
American History
Economics

The related academic work of the School of Education, given for a semester of 18 hours weekly, includes these courses:

Principles and Methods of Secondary Education
History of Education
Educational Psychology, with special attention to the Psychology of Adolescence
Educational Hygiene
Educational Research
English Composition and Rhetoric

The satisfactory completion of the practice and related academic work satisfies the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts. This degree will be accepted in lieu of two of the three years of experience in teaching required for the Junior High or for the High School certificate for Boston service. Anyone receiving this degree is eligible to take the examinations for the Junior Assistant certificate of qualification.

During the past year in connection with the School two courses, at the invitation of the Reverend Augustine F. Hickey, S.T.L., Diocesan Superior of Schools, were given to the teaching Sisters of the Archdiocese of Boston. About 700 teaching Sisters took these courses.

Courses for Public School teachers are contemplated next year, announcement of which will be made later.

EXPENSES

Since this institution is not endowed it is entirely dependent for support on the fees paid for tuition.

The charge for tuition is $150 per session of ten months. The session is divided into quarters, and payment of fees must be made semi-annually in advance on the following dates: October the first, January the fourth. No deduction is allowed for absence.

Any delay in payment beyond the date specified renders the delinquent liable to forfeiture of his enrollment, or to such other discipline as may commend itself to the Dean. In any event, the Treasurer is directed to regard a delinquent as temporarily suspended, and to report to the Dean. Registration once suspended or forfeited can be restored only upon the payment of a fee of five dollars.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Gifts to the Library

From the Rev. Arthur T. Connolly of Roxbury, Mass., many choice and valuable sets of English, American and French authors, among them nine sets of Shakespeare's plays.

From the Rev. John H. Fleming of Dedham, Mass., the works of Albertus Magnus in thirty-eight volumes, De Lugo in eight volumes, together with fifteen volumes of Bible Commentary by L'Abbe Petit, and many other valuable works. Also a type-writing machine.

From Mrs. W. H. Ruddick, five hundred volumes from the library of the late Dr. W. H. Ruddick.

From Mrs. J. S. Bleakie of Brookline, Mass., seventy-five volumes.

From Mr. Otto Fleischner, twenty-three volumes.

From the library of the late Rev. James Supple of Charlestown, Mass., numerous volumes of Homiletics and Theology.

From the library of the late Rev. Timothy Brosnahan of Waltham, Mass., many volumes of Homiletics and Theology.

From Mr. H. F. Sheran of Roxbury, Mass., several hundred volumes on the History and Literature of Ireland.

From the family of Mr. Matthias Brock of Roxbury, Mass., a set of the Catholic Encyclopedia.

From Dr. J. W. Hinckley of Boston, Mass., a set of the Catholic Encyclopedia.

From Mr. George J. Martin, of Chestnut Hill, Mass., fifteen volumes on Business Management.

From Mr. Thomas J. Flynn of Boston, Mass., two hundred and fifty volumes.

From the library of the late William E. Keating of Norwood, Mass., 269 volumes presented by Rev. Edw. F. Ryan, D.D.

From Miss Marcella Eberle, Somerville, Mass., 155 volumes.

From Rt. Rev. Msgr. Roche, Watertown, Mass., 24 volumes.

From Miss Frances O'Donnell, New Hampshire, 15 volumes.

From Thomas J. Flynn, Boston, Mass., 20 volumes.

From the American Irish Historical Society, volume XVIII of its Journal.

From the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institute, the Federal, State and City Governments, numerous volumes and pamphlets.
